

Men Should Treat Their Wives As Lovers, Not Mothers On Mother's Day

Men who want to rekindle the spark in their relationship should treat their wife as a lover, and “ignore” the kids on Mother’s Day.

While it’s adorable to receive handmade gifts, and burnt toast and watery coffee as breakfast in bed from the kids, what wives really want is recognition of their relationship from their husbands, says Elizabeth Ball, astrologer at <http://www.itsinthestaronline.com>.

“Women crave special attention from their husbands to keep the romance alive in their relationships,” said Elizabeth.

“Ironically, making Mother’s Day an event that is all about her mothering, does not make her feel passionate about her husband,” she said.

“If a woman gets pigeonholed too much as a mother, she gets locked into her Moon sign, while rules mothering and nurturing.”

This is where she can easily become ‘his’ mother, cossetting and nagging him, but rarely desiring him.

Men crave passion in their wives and the best way to do this is to tap back into her Venus sign, turning her back into his lover.

Venus is the planet of love and beauty and being cherished as a lover makes a woman desire her man (Mars).

According to Elizabeth, the perfect way to do this is to give your wife gifts which have nothing to do with the children, or with mothering. It needs to be all about you two as a couple.

“This means you don’t give her flowers, department store perfume gift sets, chocolates, champagne or anything generic but something which represents your relationship,” said Elizabeth.

“Women LOVE talking about the relationship and how to make each other happy.”

One unique Mother’s Day gift idea is to give her a boxed gift certificate for a beautifully designed, 30-35 page hardcover LoveStars report.

“This means you can maintain the surprise because you don’t have to ask her for her birth details and it gives her something to look forward after Mother’s Day when she redeems it,” said Elizabeth.

“Treat your wife as a lover this Mother’s Day and hey, she might just put the kids early to bed that night!”

Elizabeth Ball is an astrologer, writer, blogger and speaker. The founder of <http://www.itsinthestaronline.com> has been producing beautifully designed personalised hardcover astrology reports for couples and parents since 2005 which are sold through more than 25 gift websites in Australia, New Zealand and the UK.